WHY BUY?

iQ's Fashion and Style Editor, Paul Ewart asserts that a grooming kit is an essential product, whether for travel or day-to-day use. 'A good grooming kit is timeless. Invest in quality and it'll stay with you through the years – my Dad's been using his gold-plated kit for as long as I can remember.'

"While the majority of us no longer use a badger hair brush to apply shaving cream, it really is a great device to lift the beard away from the skin, ensuring an easier and closer shave," Says Paul.

Quality is paramount if you want the kit to last the distance - gold-plated is a safe bet. "G. Lorenzi is one of my favorite accessory shops in Milan," adds Paul. "The Italian's really know their barbering, and now that the brand is available at Harvey Nichols, you don't need to wait until your next trip to Milano."
